Changes: 1.1: Added copyright notice. 1.0: First public release.The present invention relates to a continuous casting apparatus using a twin roll caster. A twin roll caster is suitable for casting a thin plate-like product of aluminum or an alloy thereof. The roll is composed of a twin roll consisting of a pair of rollers opposed to each other across a casting pool filled with molten metal. Each of the rollers is provided with a mold ring for forming a mold wall of the thin plate-like product. The rolls are supported at their ends of a support shaft so as to be rotatable around their own axes. The roll is rotated in synchronization with the supply of molten metal to the roll. An ingot is continuously formed during the rolling operation. As the molten metal is supplied to the roll
