

May 26, 2020 - two types are used Neural Networks: Radial Base and Pitchâ€¦ Building codes use building elements to estimate the spacing between cracks. For example, â€œGOST R 52086-2003. Building materials and products. Buildings and constructions. Determination of concrete cover thickness and bare reinforcement size. The laboratory control method" determines that "cracks in concrete must be calibrated, measured along the perimeter and divided into two types depending on the degree of their opening: class A - cracks with an opening of up to 0.3 mm, class B - from 0.3 mm up to 5 mm. In all other cases, cracks are not controllable.

Saturday, June 29, 2011 "Before the [2004] election, there were all kinds of whispers that he was doing it himself." As the Obama campaign gears up for the midterm elections in November, Democrats and Republicans will be out there to sow rumor and propaganda to hopefully affect the outcome. Here's a look at some of the new go-to web sites. EXPRESS NEW AMERICA Ex-White House adviser David Axelrod was (hilariously) named the new "chief strategist" for the Obama 2012 reelection effort in a statement released today by the Obama campaign, which promised him "an unprecedented level of access to the President." Here's Axelrod's statement: "It is clear that President Obama's best days as a President are still ahead of him. The President knows that, and he and I have a mutual confidence in each other that we have no doubt will serve the country well. "It is also clear that our best days as a country are still ahead of us. Given the challenges we face, the American people have every reason to be confident in their leadership. For the next two years, I will be an ordinary citizen, not a member of the Administration. That is why I have accepted the President's request to become a senior advisor in the White House on political and policy affairs. I do so with the highest honor and with a deep sense of responsibility to protect the extraordinary promise of America's future. "The President and I agree on a lot. He understands the challenges our country faces and he knows that he has a great team in place. I believe that we can still work together to strengthen America, hold the line on our commitments, and fulfill the urgent promise of our time." GEORGIA GUARDIAN In a story on the launch of a new web site devoted to the "opposition research" or opposition allegations to be used against Republican candidates, the Atlanta Journal-Constitution reported that the web site is "under the brand of the Democratic Governors Association and the liberal group Georgia Ground Zero." "There is opposition research being prepared for Democratic candidates in state races across the country, a first for a governor who is not running for re-election," the editorial board wrote. "The Georgia campaign is being led by Jonathan Manthey, who wrote a book on c6a93da74d
